Arizona Is the Road to Las Vegas

When the National Reined Cow Horse Association rides into WestWorld of Scottsdale this May, it isn't just bringing eleven days of world-class competition to the Valley. It's bringing something bigger — a direct road to Las Vegas, a million-dollar purse, and the national spotlight that only Taylor Sheridan can shine.

Run for a Million Qualifier Comes to Scottsdale

The Kimes Ranch NRCHA Derby returns to WestWorld for its fifth consecutive year, running May 28 through June 7. All eleven days are free and open to the public — making it one of the most accessible elite equestrian events in the country. But don't let the price of admission fool you. What unfolds inside those arenas is as serious as it gets.

The Derby features $125,000 in added money for elite 4- and 5-year-old horse-and-rider teams, with nine divisions that welcome competitors at every level — from million-dollar Open riders to Non Pro, Limited, and Boxing exhibitors. Horse and rider pairs compete in three main events: herd work, which involves cutting cattle from the herd;

rein work, described as the equestrian equivalent of figure skating; and fence work, fast-paced runs chasing and turning a cow along the rail. Preliminary rounds build through the week, with everything coming to a head at the clean-slate finals on June 7. National Reined Cow Horse AssociationYourValley A highlight event, the Holy Cow Performance Horses CD Survivor Open Bridle Spectacular, showcases the sport's seasoned bridle horses vying for $25,000 in added money, with the full slate of horse show classes totaling over $52,750 in added prize money. A vendor village featuring premium western goods and food trucks rounds out the experience, making this a full western lifestyle event, not just a horse show. UpcomingEvents.com

But here's where Scottsdale becomes the center of the western performance universe. Top competitors at the Kimes Ranch Derby are not only competing for the Derby championship — they're trying to qualify for Taylor Sheridan's Run for a Million, held in Las Vegas in August. That single fact changes the weight of every run made at WestWorld. What looks like a regional derby is actually a proving ground for the richest and most celebrated event in the history of the sport. ABC15 Arizona

The 2025 Run for a Million takes place August 11–16 at the South Point Arena and Equestrian Center in Las Vegas, and it is far more than a horse show. The event offers more than $1 million in prize money, including a full million-dollar purse for the flagship Million Dollar Reining Competition.

The event is also chronicled in Paramount Network's unscripted reality series The Last Cowboy, which follows riders and horses competing in reining, cow horse, and cutting as they train for the high-stakes culminating event. Sold out year after year.

INTERVIEW - THE STEWARTS

BY TRACY WAGER

Q - The Heart of Cave Creek: You are a familiar face at local events like the Cave Creek Rodeo; what inspired Stewart Mechanical to make local event sponsorships such a central part of your business's mission?

A - Honestly, it comes down to who we are as a company. At Stewart Mechanical, we've always believed we're more than just an air conditioning company, we're part of this community. We see our customers as neighbors first. The same families we're helping stay cool in the summer are the ones we run into at rodeos, school events, and community gatherings. Supporting those events is just another way of showing up for them outside of the job. It also reflects how we've always ran our business. We're not trying to be faceless in a company; we want people to know who we are, trust us and feel comfortable calling us when they need help. Being present at local events helps build those relationships in a genuine way, and it keeps us connected to the community that keeps our business going. We also proudly sponsor other rodeos such as the 406 Rodeo, which is filled with the next generation of rodeo. We see it as investing in our community and our youth, the two most important things. Our family has lived here for five-generations, and we hope to keep this sport alive in Cave Creek for many generations to come.

Q - Empowering the Arena: You currently sponsor two talented barrel racers; what qualities do you look for in the athletes you support, and how does seeing them compete reflect the values of your company?

A - When we choose someone to sponsor, character and heart come first. We want to see that passion for what they do and the love for their horses that help them do it. We are proudly sponsoring two beautiful young women, Madisyn Desautelle and Dakota Stewart. We presented both of these young women with beautiful custom Stewart Mechanical buckles made by Sheridan Buckle Co.

Madisyn is everything we were looking for, plus some. She carries herself with kindness, strength, and professionalism. Madisyn and her horse Winnie show up for every race and give it their all.

Dakota is our daughter but has an undeniable passion for horses and barrel racing. She is eager and willing to learn so she can take her and her horse Kallie to the next level. Dakota encourages and mentors other younger children to get involved with horses and barrel racing every chance she gets. Several people ask, "What does air conditioning have to do with barrel racing?" and I always tell them "Everything". The Stewart family has a passion for both and as we all know in Arizona, everyone needs air conditioning. Our family is either out at the arena or working on an air conditioning unit.

Dakota Stewart & Kallie Competing

Q - A Family Legacy: With your own daughter competing as a young barrel racer, how has watching her journey in the sport deepened your family's connection to the local horse community?

A - The Stewart family has always been a part of the horse community, but watching our daughter grow as a young barrel racer has added a whole new layer of meaning to our involvement in the horse community. What started as supporting her interest has turned into a shared family experience that keeps us grounded in the values that define this lifestyle— hard work, resilience, and genuine connection. You spend long days at the arena, early mornings at the barn, and countless hours alongside other families who quickly become more than just familiar faces; they become part of your extended circle. We have made so many great relationships along the way and work closely with others in the equine community. Cortney Morris is an extremely decorated barrel racer and currently trains Dakota in the arena. Dakota strives to be everything Cortney is and looks up to her.

Q - The Power of "Family Owned": As a five-generation HVAC family, how do your individual roles and personal bond help you provide a more "neighborly" level of air conditioning service to your customers?

A - Being a five-generation HVAC family isn't just something we say, it's really how we operate day to day. Everyone has their role, but because we are family and have been in the industry since our great, great uncles Gust and Adam Goettl founded Goettl in 1939, things just flow naturally. We communicate easily, step in for one another when needed, and there's a built-in level of trust that makes everything run smoother. That family connection definitely shows up in how we treat our customers, too. We're not looking at people as just another service call, we treat them like neighbors. The same values that have been passed down through generations, being honest, showing up when we say we will, and respecting someone's home and business are just part of who we are. At the end of the day, I think people can feel and see that. It's not a big corporate experience, it's more personal. When you call in you will either get me (Samantha Stewart) or Micheal Stewart taking your call. You're working with a family that genuinely cares, and that's what gives it that "neighborly" feel. We are not building our company to sell off to corporate, we are building to pass down to our children, Tanner and Dakota.

Q - Balancing Boots and Business: Between managing 24/7 HVAC services and participating in local horse events, what is the secret to how your family works together to keep both the business and your community passions thriving?

A - Honestly, the "secret" is we don't really treat it like two separate things. Our business and our time in the horse community both come from the same place—family, hard work, and just showing up for people. We work closely with El Hay Guy and Clover C Productions to keep Larkyn Memorial Arena, which is our local arena, open and beautiful for all types of equine sports. We show up as a company to help where needed and as a family to support our daughter.

Each one burns up to 4 times longer than traditional wax and fills your space with a bold, long-lasting aroma you'll notice the moment you light it. These aren't just candles — they're handcrafted works of art, featuring authentic ranch barbed wire inside every jar, making each one truly one-of-a-kind. Whether you're treating yourself or looking for the perfect gift, these candles add a special touch of warmth, character, and rustic charm to any space.

Bluebonnet® Launches Intensify® Low Starch Ultra™, a Breakthrough in Controlled-Carbohydrate Equine Nutrition

This isn't the low starch you're used to. Bluebonnet® is excited to announce the launch of Intensify® Low Starch Ultra™, an advanced equine nutrition solution developed for horses that require carefully controlled carbohydrate intake without sacrificing performance support. This new formula builds on the success of Bluebonnet's Intensify line and also incorporates LIFELINE®+ Equine, an exclusive bioactive protein available only from Bluebonnet, to provide unparalleled support for total-body wellness.

Many horses today fall into a unique nutritional category. Easy keepers, horses with metabolic concerns, and those prone to founder or laminitis often require strict management of starch and sugar. At the same time, these horses still need high-quality amino acids, balanced micronutrients, and digestive support to maintain muscle, immune function, and overall health.

Intensify Low Starch Ultra was formulated to meet these needs with precision. With non-structural carbohydrates (NSC) under 9%, the feed provides steady energy without excessive starch or sugar. For owners who closely monitor carbohydrate intake, Bluebonnet also provides transparency by listing both Water Soluble Carbohydrate (WSC) and Ethanol Soluble Carbohydrate (ESC) values, giving a more complete picture of sugar content for horses with metabolic sensitivity. Intensify Low Starch Ultra was made with the performance horse in mind. Beyond controlled carbohydrate levels, it delivers elevated lysine for topline and muscle development, along with chromium to support glucose metabolism. Natural Vitamin E provides antioxidant and immune support, while a full, research-backed dose of biotin promotes hoof, skin, and coat health when fed at performance levels. Elevated fat supplies clean, sustained energy without the metabolic stress associated with higher NSC formulas.

Digestive health is another cornerstone of the new feed. Intensify Low Starch Ultra features Hay Fix™, a diverse blend of digestive technologies including research-proven yeasts, probiotics, and digestive enzymes designed to support gut stability, nutrient absorption, and overall digestive balance.

The feed is highly concentrated, allowing for a low daily feeding rate that delivers precise nutrition without excess calories. This approach is particularly beneficial for easy keepers, metabolic horses, and horses that maintain weight easily but still require a complete and balanced nutrient profile.

"We designed Intensify Low Starch Ultra for horses that don't fit traditional feeding categories and whose nutritional needs often fall through the gaps," said Dr. Jyme Nichols, Head of Nutrition at Bluebonnet. "Many metabolic and insulin-resistant horses still need support for muscle development, recovery, immune health, and digestive function. Until now, there really hasn't been a feed that provides all of these benefits in one formula while keeping starch and sugar levels tightly controlled. The result is a research-backed feed that delivers both safety and performance support in a way that is truly unique in the market."

With the launch of Intensify Low Starch Ultra, Bluebonnet continues its commitment to advancing equine nutrition through science-driven formulations that address the evolving needs of modern horses and their owners. For horse owners managing metabolic concerns, easy keepers, or those seeking a controlled-energy diet without sacrificing nutrient density, Intensify Low Starch Ultra offers a new standard in low starch feeding.

Kent Farrington and Greya Finish Top of the Podium in 2026 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Final

Fort Worth, Texas – Two U.S. combinations finished on the podium at the 2026 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Final Fort Worth, with Kent Farrington and Greya leading from start to finish, and Katie Dinan and Out of the Blue SCF steadily moving up the standings throughout the week to take third on nine total penalties. Daniel Deusser (GER) and Otello de Guldenboom finished in second.

Farrington (Wellington, Fla.) and his own Greya, a 2014 Oldenburg (Colestus x Contender) mare cared for by Denise Moriarty, who impressed the entire week, finished the competition on just four faults, only adding a rail in the first round of today's two round final competition.

Greya has been a powerhouse talent for Farrington and today marks a milestone with their first individual Finals win.

"This means a lot to me because the World Cup Final is what I grew up watching. I didn't have access to major events and competitions where I grew up, but I had access to video tapes of every single year of the World Cup Final. I would study all the rounds and all the rides hoping I could ride like that, so to be here winning it today is really special for me," said Farrington.

Of the achievement, Farrington was also quick to praise Toulayna, a 2014 Zangersheide mare (Toulon x Parco) owned by Kent Farrington LLC and Rabbit Root Stables, LLC, and cared for by Denise Moriarty, who helped start the week off on the right foot for Team Farrington after securing the victory in the first phase of competition on Thursday.

"It's important to note I rode two horses here and I couldn't have done it without Toulayna on day one. I have two exceptional mares that put me in the position that I needed to win the title," added Farrington.

On the pressure of returning last both on Friday, and in today's first and second rounds, Farrington noted he learned to deal with pressure and nerves at a young age and has come to accept that being in the moment and not letting distractions filter in has been the key to his ability to rise to the moment and deliver.

"Ever since I was a little kid, I have always put a lot of pressure on myself. At a certain point, there's no more pressure to put on, so I just focus on the task at hand and being present and one with my horse. I was thinking about what I had to do and not worrying about the end result," he concluded.

"It's always great to win the World Cup Final, but never better than on home soil! Most impressive though was that we showed a lot of depth this week with five US riders finishing in the top twelve placings," said Chef d'Equipe Robert Ridland. "Across the board, our riders all rode extremely well, and finally, kudos to the organizers for producing a world class event and to Anderson Lima who built masterful courses all week."

Dinan and Out of the Blue SCF, a U.S.-bred 2014 Belgian Warmblood mare (Verdi TN x San Patrignano Cassini) owned by Grant Road Partners LLC, and cared for by Lou Boudin and Pepper Pritchard, delivered another impressive performance in their second consecutive Longines FEI Jumping World Cup Final together, pushing up through the standings with a string of clear rounds throughout the week. The pair jumped clear in every major round of the competition, producing two clear rounds in today's final.

"I'm in awe of my horse. She was spectacular in both rounds today. I owe everything to her," said Dinan. "The World Cup Final is a big deal. It's a championship every year and something we all aim for. I've been fortunate enough to have a handful of wonderful horses in my career, and the Final is something my team has always prioritized. My coach Beat [Mändli] won it in 2007, and I remember watching it on TV and my first World Cup Final was in 2014 when Daniel [Deusser] won. It's unbelievable to be on the podium with these superstars and it's something I'm proud of."

The U.S. finished four combinations inside of the top ten placings, with Aaron Vale (Williston, Fla.) and Carissimo 25 taking seventh overall on 16 total penalties, and Lillie Keenan (New York, N.Y.) and Kick On, finishing in 10th overall. Jacob Pope (Columbia, Md.) and Highway FBH impressed with a strong clear round to finish the weekend in 12th overall, while Laura Kraut (Royal Palm Beach, Fla.) and Tres Bien Z, took 18th in the final standings on 32 penalties.

ProRodeo Hall of Famer Nancy Sheppard passed away on April 8 at her home in Globe, Ariz. She was 96 years old.

Sheppard was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2003 in Colorado Springs, Colo., as a contract personnel selection. She started her career as a trick rider at 9 years old, riding and roping at rodeos across the country from 1939-63.

Sheppard was born to a ranching family on Dec. 29, 1929, in Fort Worth, Texas. Her father was a Cowboys' Turtles Association member, and her mother showed horses at the Cowtown Coliseum as a child. Her father, Kelley Cleve, was a roper, and he signed the original document to boycott a rodeo in Boston in 1936. That group of cowboys and cowgirls forced the promoter to improve judging and increase the prize money. They picked the name Cowboys' Turtle Association in reflection of the fact that they have been slow to act, but finally stuck their necks out for their cause.

Nancy's son, Lex, was a PRCA bull rider from 1971-83, and is a Gold Card member. Lynn Sheppard, Nancy's husband, was a PRORODEO steer wrestler, tie-down roper and team roper from 1945-60. Lynn's brother, Chuck Sheppard was a PRCA World Champion Team Roper in 1946, and was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2000.

By the time Nancy turned 11, she was performing at the Pendleton (Ore.) Roundup, and at 17 years old, she rode at Madison Square Garden in New York City. After retirement from full-time work on the road, she made trick roping appearances at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and in Italy for the famous clothing designer Giorgio Armani.

She also spent a lot of time visiting children's wards at hospitals as she traveled along the rodeo road.

At the time of her induction, Sheppard was the only woman to perfect standing on the back of a running horse while spinning two ropes.

Throughout the 1950s, she served as the representative for the contract acts to the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

PROBLEM WITH STONES IN ARENA FOOTING?

CleanSands Screen Sifting machines work extremely well as equestrian stone cleaners. From horse arena footings, paddocks, corrals, or tracks, these horse arena cleaners sift out debris that is beneath the surface, not only on the surface. They help in removing harmful stones/rocks preventing Hoof Bruising. They attach directly to a tractor three-point hitch system (lower arms and top link) making them very maneuverable around equestrian facilities, corral, paddock, and arena areas.

KIMES RANCH DERBY 2026 The Run For A Million Cow Horse Challenge Qualifier at WestWorld

At the end of almost two weeks of competition, the 2026 NRCHA CINCH Stallion Stakes hosted the second Cow Horse Challenge qualifier for The Run For A Million, giving riders another shot to punch their ticket to one of the sport's biggest stages.

With high stakes in Las Vegas, five riders stepped up to claim their spot this August at the South Point. Qualifying from the event were Justin Wright of Brock, Texas, Todd Crawford of Blanchard, Oklahoma, Tucker Robinson of Shandon, California, Chris Dawson of Perrin, Texas, and Erin Taormino of Lipan, Texas.

"I feel very humble and grateful for the opportunity to go back and be a part of The Run For A Million," Justin Wright shared, who was the champion of the qualifier. "It was the first time I ever showed Snapdragons, and I'm thankful for the great job Zane Davis did training him."

The Las Vegas qualifier builds on an already strong roster of competitors set to compete in the Cow Horse Challenge at The Run For A Million. Wright, Crawford, Robinson, Dawson, and Taormino will join previously qualified riders Nick Dowers, Kelby Phillips, Boyd Rice, Shawn Hays, and Jake Telford, raising the level of competition heading into August.

The final opportunity to qualify for the 2026 Cow Horse Challenge will take place at the NRCHA Kimes Ranch Derby in Scottsdale, Arizona, May 26 through June 6, 2026. With one last shot to secure a spot, anticipation continues to build as the lineup for one of the sport's premier events takes shape.

"From the very beginning, Fort Worth has held a special place in the heart of Super Sires," Executive Director Joan Logan Smith said. "To now return in such a meaningful way, partnering with the American Paint Horse Association to bring five exciting, all-breed classes to the World Show, is both humbling and thrilling.

"We've always believed in creating opportunities for every horseman, every rider and every horse. And this collaboration allows us to do just that on a stage we've not had the pleasure of being on, until now. We're so proud to stand beside the APHA in this effort, and we look forward to seeing our Super Sires family in the pen, chasing big dreams and even bigger payouts. This is a major step forward, and it's only the beginning."

Super Sires President Stephen Stephens agrees.

"We could not be more excited to launch this next chapter of Super Sires alongside the APHA and NSBA. Together, we're offering over $46,000 in added money at the 2026 APHA World Show — real, meaningful payouts for both yearlings and novice Western pleasure horses," Stephen said. "Our goal has always been to elevate the experience for breeders, owners and exhibitors, and these five new all-breed, all-age, all-rider classes are exactly that. This collaboration with APHA not only strengthens the opportunities we can provide, but it aligns perfectly with our mission: to give every Super Sire foal the chance to succeed. Coleman becomes one of only ten U.S. athletes in history to win a Tryon, N.C. – Jacob Arnold (Paris, Ky.) and Jazandro G.T. finished a stellar weekend at Tryon International Equestrian Center (TIEC), topping the USEF Combined Driving National Championship for Advanced Single Horses with a final score of 139.10 across three phases. This is Arnold and Jazandro G.T.'s first national championship title as a partnership. Leslie Berndt (Lexington, Ky.) and Impressive earned reserve national champion honors, finishing the weekend on a score of 157.55.

Show Jumper Cloe Reid of Live Oak Farm, Ocala, FL delivered a multiple headline-making performances at Wellington International to round out the 2026 Winter Equestrian Festival with her two mounts, Chelsea 169 and Crossover 4. Reid and Chelsea won ESP Spring III's $32,000 Equine Tack & Nutritionals CSI3 Speed, while she and Crossover 4 were the only double clear effort that same week in the $62,500 JTWG, Lila Jimerson and Kaatje Van Het Lindehof made their World Cup debut in the National Grand Prix this April during the 2026 FEI World Cup in Fort Worth, Texas! These two finished tenth overall after securing the spot to compete on one biggest stages in show jumping after only beginning Lila's Grand Prix career a few months prior.

Chet Herren can add another line to his impressive PRORODEO resume.

Herren, a 20-time qualifier for the National Finals Steer Roping and average winner, now is a national champion.

That became a reality when the Pawhuska, Okla., cowboy clocked an 8.7-second run to win the Final Four sudden-death round Sunday afternoon at the National Circuit Finals Steer Roping at the Goshen County Pavilion.

"I just knew I had to let my hair hangout a little bit," said Herren, 46, who was the second cowboy out in the finals. "That run (8.7 seconds) felt like they were going to. Have to get it on to get (past

Jess Pope capitalized on a championship-caliber draw at the PRCA Extreme Bares & Broncs in Watford City, N.D., delivering a 93-point ride aboard Brookman Rodeo's Lunatic Heaven to set an arena record and secure the title at the Rank 45 Xtreme Broncs Series event.

The matchup alone was enough to capture Pope's attention.

"I was super excited," Pope said. "It didn't even really dawn on me that she was going to be up there until they did the introductions last night. They did an introduction for her running into the arena, and the dark house put a spotlight on her. So automatically, I'm like, 'Oh crap, she is here. This is pretty cool.'"

Stetson Wright has faced a couple in 2026, one of which was Legacy Pro Rodeo's Ain't No Joke during Wednesday's championship round of the Clovis (Calif.) Rodeo Xtreme Bulls, part of the Rank 45 Xtreme Bulls Series.

"Ain't No Joke of Legacy has knocked me out really bad in the rodeo (last year)," said Wright, a 10-time PRCA World Champion from Beaver, Utah. "It's probably one of my worst knockouts ever, and I was like, 'They're just trying to kill me tonight.'"

"Of course, I knew that if I did things right as bucky as Ain't No Joke is, I could easily win. I also knew it was going to be hard to get the whistle on him."

Vengeance came with a 93-point ride to win the short round and the average, leaving the arena with $12,967, which propelled him back to the top spot in the PRCA.

RUSTY WRIGHT SETS NEW ARENA RECORD

It was a banner night for one of the most well-recognized names in PRORODEO and a cowboy looking to make a splash this season at Battle Born Broncs in Fallon, Nev., part of the Rank 45 Xtreme Broncs Series.

Coming off a hot start to his season that has made him the No. 2 saddle bronc rider in the PRCA I Bill Fick Ford World Standings, Rusty Wright's 90.5-point ride on Corey & Lange Rodeo's Cypress Toddy set a new arena record at the Rafter 3C Arena. Meanwhile, in the bareback riding, Myles Carlson picked up the biggest win of his career with an 87-point ride on Burch Rodeo's Lyin Hostage.

Before Rusty Wright's section, his brother, Stetson Wright, was tied for the lead in the saddle bronc riding with an 88.5-point ride. Stetson Wright currently leads the world in the saddle bronc, just a few thousand dollars ahead of his brother. By the time the final section came to an end, four cowboys had marked a score of 88.5 points, but Rusty rose to the top for the win.

There is plenty of competition with the Wright brothers, but they're also each other's biggest fans and supporters.

"You're only as good as your competition," Rusty Wright said. "When they are there, riding against me, I feel like there's nothing better than that."

Rusty Wright knew before his ride in the final section was even over that he was headed for a win.

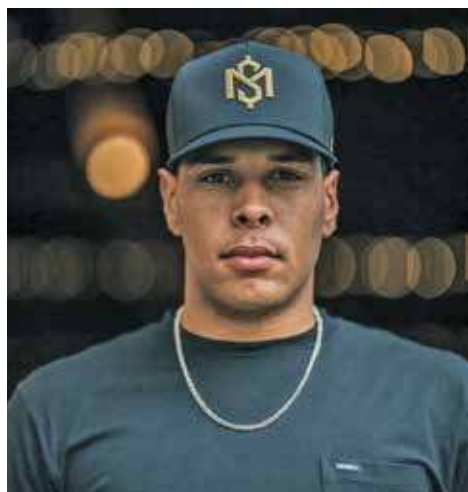

"I knew by about the fourth jump that if I finished the way it started, I was going to be winning it," he said. "When I looked back to the chutes, I saw my brothers all pumped up and cheering, and I was 100% sure I had won."

INJURED SHAD MAYFIELD EYES RETURN AT CALGARY STAMPEDE

Shad Mayfield, the 2020 PRCA Tie-Down Roping World Champion and 2024 PRCA All-Around World Champion, has had a busy offseason – on the operating table.

Mayfield, a native of Clovis, N.M., had surgery on his left hip on Dec. 18, and then on March 26 he had surgery on his right hip.

"I did my left hip first, and that was because that was the worst hip. It was a lot bigger surgery on it, and then I did my right hip," said Mayfield, 25. "My right hip wasn't near as bad, so they just kind of went in there and cleaned it up and repaired stuff."

Mayfield, a seven-time qualifier for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo – 2019-2025 – is not ready to shut down his 2026 season just yet.

"The plan is to be back at Calgary," said Mayfield who is going to be on crutches for three more weeks. "That's what we're working on. I go to PT (physical therapy) five days a week. I have one of the best physical therapists out there. The only time I take off is weekends. We alternate hips. I work on one hip one day and the other hip the next day. If I stay in PT and stay true to all that and just stay healthy, then I told him, let's plan on me being back at Calgary. That's the goal. I feel like if I can get back at Calgary and have success there and then roll on, I have a big chance of making the NFR."

The 2026 Calgary Stampede runs from July 3-12.

A year ago, Mayfield finished second in the PRCA I Bill Fick Ford World Standings in tie-down roping with $388,931.

CHASE WEBSTER HANGS ON FOR TIE-DOWN ROPING WIN IN CLOVIS

Chase Webster made a statement at the Clovis (Calif.) Rodeo April 24-26, as the 22-year-old cowboy beat out several Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifiers to claim the aggregate title with a time of 47.2 seconds on four head.

Webster, who entered Clovis with less than $10,000 in earnings on the season, won Round 2 with a 9.5-second run, then followed it up with another 9.5-second in Round 3. The two times helped him advanced to the finals with a commanding lead of 30.4 seconds on three head – nearly 17 seconds ahead of second place.

"It was harder for people here because it rained so much, and the mud was a huge part of it," said Webster, who hails from Kamas, Utah. "I drew well, so that helped a lot."

Webster's stretch of good runs hit a snag in the final round, as he was late and resorted to fundamentals rather than speed.

"I just wanted to make sure I caught my calf," Webster said. "That mud was deep, and whenever I got to her, I sank down in the mud a little bit, and then the calf ran. At that point, I just knew I needed to tie her down to get something in the average."

Webster threw his hands up at 16.8 seconds, narrowly hanging on to the top spot over King Pickett, who finished second in the average with 47.4 seconds on four head.

RILEY O'ROURKE HOPES TO 'GET EVEN' AFTER SUCCESSFUL ROOKIE CAMPAIGN

Riley O'Rourke was on the brink of etching his name in the PRORODEO history books in 2025 – forever.

He just missed becoming the first cowboy to capture a PRCA Steer Roping World Championship in his Resistol Rookie Year, finishing $9,269 behind Cole Patterson.

The 21-year-old put himself in position to claim a gold buckle, thanks to a consistent season that saw him collect wins at the Yuma (Ariz.) Silver Spur Rodeo and Days of '76 Landmark Stand Alone Steer Roping in Deadwood, S.D.

He proceeded to run away with Resistol Rookie of the Year honors in steer roping and the all-around. And at the National Finals Steer Roping in Mulvane, Kan., the Skiatook, Okla., cowboy was solid earning $54,134, the second most of any contestant.

Now, with a year of experience under his belt, O'Rourke hopes to take the next step, and falling short of winning a gold buckle has added fuel to his fire.

"It's one of those deals where I'm never okay with losing," O'Rourke said. "I feel like I didn't really lose, I more or less just got beat. At the time, I did what I had to do but (Cole Patterson) was just better in Round 10 and over that weekend (at NFSR). But I'd just like the roles to be reversed."

O'Rourke made a run at the NFSR and put himself in position to win the world, entering Round 10 at the Kansas Star Arena. But he didn't control his own destiny.

Crawford, just to name a few," shared NRCHA Foundation Chairperson Chelsea Edsall. "Each team will vie for prize money that's awarded to the charity of each competitor's choice, along with $20,000 for first place, $10,000 for second, and $5,000 for third—plus belt buckles and other prizes. Between the expertise of our NRCHA professionals, their exceptional bridle horses, and the superstar rodeo athletes, it's sure to be an exciting night." This also marks the first time the NRCHA will host an event at the historic Cowtown Coliseum, known for its weekly rodeo series and other special events.

"The venue offers a fun new dynamic for the NRCHA, as well as the opportunity to amplify our sport's visibility, driving membership, ownership, and overall support of reined cow horse," Edsall added.

"NRCHA's Foundation is a vital part of our organization and the entire cow horse family," said NRCHA Executive Director Emily Konkel. "It works to preserve our heritage, supports our youth members, and fundraises for the crisis fund that helps members facing hardship. This night in the Stockyards will not only be fun for the entire family but also will raise funds to support the NRCHA Foundation as well as other charities chosen by our competitors. It's truly a special night of giving back."

NCHA CELEBRITY CUTTING RAISES $1 MILLION FOR CANCER RESEARCH

BY NCHA

FORT WORTH, Texas — April 29th, 2026 — The National Cutting Horse Association (NCHA) proudly announces that the 2026 NCHA Celebrity Cutting presented by Icon Global has raised $1 million in support of cancer research at UT Southwestern Medical Center, marking a milestone moment for the premier charity event that blends Western sport with star power.

From the arena to the stands, the energy was electric as fans witnessed celebrity competitors partner with top NCHA riders in the thrilling sport of cutting. The event not only delivered high-level competition and entertainment but also underscored the generosity and commitment of the cutting horse community and its supporters.

“This milestone speaks volumes about what can be accomplished when our community comes together for a cause that touches so many lives,” said Jay Winborn, NCHA Executive Director “Reaching $1 million is a testament to the passion of our participants, sponsors, and fans, and the growing impact of this event each year.”

With widespread media attention and participation from notable names like Colt McCoy, Nick Carter, C. Thomas Howell, Matthew Rhys and stars from the Taylor Sheridan Universe, Michael Kelly, Dave Annable and NCHA Celebrity Cutting Champion, Thad Luckinbill as well as the new hit The Madison’s, Beau Garrett, Elle Chapman, Kevin Zegers and more, NCHA Celebrity Cutting continues to elevate the visibility of the cutting horse industry while expanding its charitable reach. The event has become a powerful platform for connecting new audiences to the Western lifestyle and its mission.

Final fundraising totals are now confirmed, with this year’s event surpassing the $1 million mark—an achievement that reflects both the scale and significance of the effort and represents an increase of more than 500% to UT Southwestern compared to the 2024 event.

The success of this year’s event was made possible through the collective efforts of many, including the NCHA Celebrity Cutting Committee – Nicole Sheridan, Sherri Patton and Kit Moncrief – the NCHA professional trainers and their teams who generously shared their time and expertise, and the horse owners who provided exceptional equine partners for the competitors. The NCHA also extends its appreciation to the celebrities who stepped into the arena, as well as the attendees and sponsors whose enthusiasm and support continue to drive the impact of this event.

Proceeds from NCHA Celebrity Cutting support UT Southwestern Medical Center’s cancer programs serving Fort Worth and surrounding communities.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (April 24) – Earlier this week, the PRCA Board of Directors and the ProRodeo Hall of Fame Trustees held a joint meeting to review the next step with Cheyenne LEADS and voted in favor of moving forward.

This step follows the January signing of a non-binding memorandum of understanding to explore relocating the PRCA offices and the ProRodeo Hall of Fame and Museum of the American Cowboy to Cheyenne, Wyo.

This morning, Cheyenne

PRCA PRORODEO HOF MOVING TO CHEYENNE, WYO.

LEADS, the PRCA Board of Directors and the Hall of Fame Trustees formalized the partnership with the signing of a Development Agreement between the parties on the project. The target for completion is still early 2029 and additional timeline details are being formed.

“As the PRCA celebrates our 90th year as the premier sanctioning body in Western sports, this is an exciting evolution that will give our membership the best chance at success for the next 50 years,” PRCA CEO Tom Glause said.

Over the last three months, the Wyoming State Legislature, Cheyenne City Officials and Cheyenne LEADS have continued to codify funding for the project. The Wyoming legislative approval allowed the parties to move into the next phase of discussions.

In addition, this milestone allows project partners to begin pursuing additional fundraising efforts to support the overall development of the Hitching Post District.

“I’m incredibly excited about the next phases of this project and the opportunity to build on the strong foundation we’ve created,” says Betsey Hale, CEO of Cheyenne LEADS. “There’s great momentum, and I’m looking forward to what’s ahead.”

EHV-1 Is Here to Stay; Here's What We Do About It

Virtually all horses are exposed to the EHV-1 virus at a young age, which guides the way we respond to an outbreak

Many horse owners become acutely aware of Equine Herpesvirus (EHV) when there's an outbreak or a reported positive test in your local community. The reality is that EHV is a permanent part of the equine environment – not just at horse shows, but across the population.

Virtually all horses are exposed to the EHV-1 virus at a young age, and the virus hides out (is "latent") in most horses without causing symptoms. The virus is intermittently shed from healthy horses into the environment, particularly in times of stress, and this is how horses around them end up getting exposed to higher levels of the virus and develop symptoms. This is also the reason that you may see small outbreaks at unrelated facilities – those horses didn't necessarily catch the virus from each other or from a shared human contact; they may have experienced a stress response and become sick without exposure to another horse, or may have encountered a high viral shedder on property.

Similar to human diseases like COVID or the flu, equine infectious diseases can't be 100% prevented. To help our community coexist with equine infectious diseases, USEF has successfully developed biosecurity protocols to accomplish the following:

- Prevent potential introduction of infectious disease pathogens
- Healthy horse entry protocols and vaccine requirements
- Identify cases of infectious disease early

- Mandatory reporting of febrile horses (temperatures over 101.5F)

Isolate potential infectious disease cases

Mandatory submission of isolation plans which identify isolation areas for clinical or exposed cases during an outbreak. Isolating sick or potentially exposed horses from others is the best way to limit diseases spread.

Protect horse health and allow safe continuation of competition. Enhanced biosecurity to allow healthy horses to compete. Assistance with developing and implementing biosecurity protocols for competition facilities is available to all USEF competition organizers.

If an infectious disease outbreak does occur, USEF works with the competition organizer and state animal health officials to assist with any contact tracing and advise on the risk assessment and epidemiological investigation that state animal health authorities conduct. This includes an assessment of population demographics, contact rates, environmental conditions, laboratory findings, and the venue/horse management. Decisions about whether a show goes forward are usually reached together based on this assessment, with all three groups conferring about whether the event can continue with unexposed horses safely participating. Competition organizers are free to cancel an event at any time if desired.

In the last three years, USEF has worked with organizers, state veterinarians, and competition veterinarians to successfully manage several infectious diseases occurrences on competition grounds while allowing the shows to continue. Two USEF shows had state quarantines on a group of horses on the show grounds and continued the show with no additional horses becoming sick.

Our biosecurity protocols are backed by peer-reviewed science and years of experience to separate and protect unexposed horses from illness, but we need members' help in keeping those practices top of mind. USEF will continue to focus efforts to ensure horse health and biosecurity are a priority and ask your help in doing the same.

PBR Teams announces expansion plans

League intends to grow to 12 teams for the 2027 season.

By Andrew Giangola
Fort Worth, TX (March 30, 2026)
– PBR Teams today announced plans for its second wave of expansion, with the league intending to grow from 10 to 12 teams for the 2027 season. The expansion, approved unanimously by PBR Teams owners, marks a significant milestone in the league's continued evolution and underscores the strength of its business model, competitive product, and fan engagement.

PBR Teams launched in 2022 with eight teams playing five-on-five bull riding games, leading to an annual championship. In its first wave of expansion, the league expanded to 10 teams ahead of the 2024 season.

"Our second expansion in five years marks the next step in the continued growth of one of North America's fastest-growing sports leagues," said Sean Gleason, CEO and Commissioner, PBR. "With strong interest from prospective ownership groups, we're excited to introduce team competition to two new North American cities."

“Road to the Championship Shoot Out” in Dec.

Top women’s rodeo athletes from across the globe will compete in a four-day, high-stakes showdown, with championship berths on the line in Fort Worth.

By Andrew Giangola

Fort Worth, Texas (April 30, 2026) – Premier Women’s Rodeo (PWR) today announced the “Road to the Championship Shoot Out,” a four-day, high-stakes competition set for December 17–20 at Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, TX.

The event will feature the top 24 women’s rodeo athletes in the world competing in each of PWR’s three core disciplines: Barrel Racing, Breakaway Roping, and Team Roping. In addition, the event will also feature Goat Tying, Women’s Bronc and Bull Riding, and more.

The elite field in each discipline will include eight athletes each from the PWR’s Pro, Challenger, and Limited divisions, showcasing the depth of talent across all levels of women’s rodeo. The stakes are high: Sunday’s winners will automatically qualify for the 2027 PWR Championship, scheduled for May in Fort Worth, Texas.

PWR is built around three premier disciplines – Barrel Racing, Breakaway Roping, and Team Roping – with equal payouts across the three divisions. This structure creates a true championship platform for women in rodeo, expanding on the success of the Women’s Rodeo World Championship (WRWC).

The competition at Cowtown Coliseum will begin 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday with Sunday’s action starting at 2 p.m. CT. Tickets for the “Road to the Championship Shoot Out” will be on sale soon and can be purchased at cowtowncoliseum.com.

This announcement follows the recent news that Scripps Sports has entered into a multi-year broadcast partnership to bring PWR exclusively to E. W. Scripps Company’s national television networks, ION and Grit, beginning in May. As part of the partnership, in 2027 the original series “PWR: Road to the Championship” will debut on Grit, delivering in-depth coverage of the season’s most compelling storylines and competitions. The season will culminate with the 2027 PWR Championship, airing across both ION and Grit.

USDA National Proving Grounds Network to Strengthen U.S. Farm and Ranch Profitability

(Washington, D.C., April 7, 2026) – USDA's Research, Education, and Economics Under Secretary Dr. Scott Hutchins today announced the launch of the USDA National Proving Grounds Network for AgTech (NPG-Ag), a nationwide initiative designed to rigorously evaluate agricultural technologies under real-world U.S. farming and ranching conditions.

"Agricultural research in the United States has long supported the development of practical solutions that improve farm and ranch productivity while strengthening rural economies; indeed, innovation has been our competitive edge and ensured food security since the nation's founding 250 years ago," said Under Secretary for Research, Education, and Economics Dr. Scott Hutchins. "By establishing a coordinated national research network to objectively validate new and emerging technologies, especially digital and AI-driven technologies, we are helping ensure row crop, specialty crop, and livestock producers all have access to reliable performance data for their investment decisions with a goal to accelerate adoption of AgTech innovations. Moreover, we fully expect that NPG-Ag will expand and facilitate the development and application of emerging technologies across the public and private sector to uniquely benefit U.S. agriculture."

$150,000 Increase in NRHA Derby® 4-Year-Old Stakes

Total added money surpasses $300,000 with expanded divisions across all levels

The National Reining Horse Association (NRHA) has announced a significant expansion to the 2026 NRHA Derby 4-Year-Old Stakes, adding $150,000 in new added money to the program.

With this increase, total added money for the 4-Year-Old Stakes now exceeds $300,000. Previously limited to the Level 4 Open and Level 4 Non Pro divisions, the Stakes will expand in 2026 to include Levels 1, 2, and 3 in both Open and Non Pro competition.

USDA Promotes New, Voluntary "Product of USA" Label

(Washington, D.C., March 24, 2026) – Today, on National Agriculture Day, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Brooke L. Rollins announced the launch of a national public awareness campaign to inform meat, poultry, and egg producers of the "Product of USA" voluntary labeling standard which went into effect on January 1, 2026, and increases consumer understanding of what the label means.

"Our great patriot ranchers and producers grow, raise, and harvest the world's safest, most affordable, and abundant food supply. American consumers want to support America by buying American and this label will strengthen our food supply chain through transparency, fairness, and trust," said USDA Secretary Rollins. "This new standard policy ensures producers who invest in a fully American supply chain can compete fairly, and it gives consumers the confidence they deserve about the food they bring home."

Groundbreaking Marks Next Major Milestone in Strengthening U.S. New World Screwworm Preparedness

(Edinburg, TX, April 17, 2026)
— Today, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Brooke L. Rollins and Lieutenant General William H. “Butch” Graham, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) commanding general, led the groundbreaking for the new sterile fly production facility at Moore Air Base in Edinburg, Texas. USDA is partnering with USACE to construct this facility, which is a cornerstone of Secretary Rollins’ five-pronged strategy (PDF, 1005 KB) to combat New World Screwworm (NWS), expanding the nation’s domestic capacity to protect livestock, wildlife, and public health from this serious pest.

“Breaking ground on this facility marks a major investment in safeguarding America’s livestock and the producers who feed this nation. This puts NWS sterile fly production in American hands, so we do not have to rely on other countries for the best offensive measure to push screwworm

HorsePropertyGuide.com Launches as the Definitive Buyer’s Resource for Horse Property Purchases

PHOENIX, AZ — Buying horse property is nothing like buying a conventional home — and HorsePropertyGuide.com was built around that fact. The site delivers in-depth guidance on every stage of the horse property purchase process, from evaluating acreage and water rights to understanding zoning, barn permits, and equestrian easements. HorsePropertyGuide.com is a free resource published by Bridle & Bit Magazine, serving the western equestrian community since 1978.

USDA and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Break Ground on New Texas Sterile Fly Production Facility away from our borders,” said Secretary Rollins. “The New World Screwworm threatens the health of our herds, the stability of rural economies, and the resilience of our supply chain. President Trump and his entire cabinet is committed to leveraging every resource necessary to contain this pest, protect American agriculture, and ensure the long-term security of our food supply chain.”

“Thank you to President Trump and Secretary Rollins for your leadership in helping mitigate the spread of the dangerous New World screwworm,” said Senator Cornyn. “I am glad to be in the Rio Grande Valley today for the groundbreaking of the sterile fly production facility, which will combat this parasite from spreading throughout the Lone Star State. Texas ranks first in the nation in cattle production, and I will keep working with Secretary Rollins to ensure Texas ranchers and farmers are supported and protected from this pest.”

A HISTORIC GEM IN ARIZONA'S SAN RAFAEL VALLEY

TBD FOREST SERVICE 5783 ROAD, PATAGONIA, AZ 85624
2 BEDS | 3 BATHS | 1,500 SQ FT | $7,000,000

This is arguably the most beautiful ranch in Arizona in one of the most scenic, coveted ranching locations in the American West. Covering 6,066 +/- acres in the heart of the spectacular San Rafael Valley in southeast Arizona. The Lazy J2 Ranch is a working cattle ranch with a carrying capacity of 200 head year round. The ranch consist of 954 +/- deeded acres with six large pastures, several smaller pastures & a charming ranch home. It also includes the 5,112 +/- acre A-Bar Draw USFS allotment with five large pastures. The deeded & leased land are very well watered with multiple wells, tanks, water lines & fences are in very good condition. Entering this very private, heavenly valley is a truly a breath taking event every time. The flowing grasslands surrounded by the blue & lavender mountains create a site that is easy to fall in love with. It lies between the Patagonia Mountains west, Huachuca Mountains east and the Canelo Hills north. The San Rafael is an uncommon, sequestered hidden valley unknown to many native Arizonans, yet is the location for over 50 feature films including OKLAHOMA. It is an extraordinarily unique piece of the West, steeped in history as the western entry point for the Europeans into what is now the United States in 1539, to the Native American Apache Tribe and Buffalo Soldiers in the 1800s. The San Rafael Valley has been a successful ranching landscape for generations of many families for hundreds of years.

Finding Your Perfect Horse Property Just Got Easier

Bridle & Bit Magazine Launches Two Powerful New Resources for Buyers and Agents

For decades, buying horse property has been one of the most complicated real estate decisions a person can make.

It's not just about square footage and curb appeal — it's about acreage, water rights, arena footing, barn configuration, zoning, setbacks, and whether the neighbors will tolerate a 5 AM feeding schedule. Finding an agent who actually understands all of that has always been the hardest part.

HorsePropertyGuide.com is a comprehensive property search and information platform built specifically for equestrian buyers. This isn't a generic real estate portal with a horse filter bolted on. HorsePropertyGuide.com is designed from the ground up for people who know what they're looking for — buyers who understand the difference between a dry lot and a turnout, who ask about hay storage before they ask about the kitchen, and who evaluate a property by its pasture drainage long before they consider the paint colors. The site delivers detailed property information, regional guides, and the kind of practical knowledge that serious horse people need before making one of the largest purchases of their lives.

HorsePropertyAgents.com is the other half of the equation. Knowing what you want is only useful if you can find an agent who speaks your language. HorsePropertyAgents.com connects buyers with real estate professionals who have genuine expertise in equestrian properties — agents who have walked enough barns, evaluated enough arena setups, and navigated enough agricultural zoning issues to guide a client confidently through the process. No more hoping your neighborhood agent will figure it out on the fly.

Together, these two platforms create something the Arizona equestrian community has never had before: a complete pipeline from research to representation. Buyers arrive informed. Agents arrive qualified. The result is transactions that close faster, with fewer surprises, and with both parties speaking the same language from day one. Both platforms are a natural extension of what Bridle & Bit Magazine has always done — connecting the Arizona horse community with the people, places, and resources they need. Whether you're buying your first five acres or your fourth working ranch, these new tools are built for you.
